L.A. Ramblers Ready For Ice Hockey Season

Nearing the end of their training grid in Nelson, British Columbia, the Los Angeles Ramblers of the new Western International Ice Hockey league will present one of the fastest and smoothest Canadian sextets ever seen in Southern California.

The team, loaded with talent from Western Canada and coached by Kenny Stewart, former star with the Chicago Black Hawks, opens its season against the power-laden Trail Smoke Eaters at the Sonja Henie Ice Palace in Westwood Village on the night of Oct. 26.

Outgrowth of the old West Kootenay league, which for years produced outstanding players for the National loop, the new Western International will show at the spacious Westwood Village rink on Saturdays and Sundays through next March 1.

Santschi, San Pedro and Pete Zamperini, Torrance. School yells were led by Vic Robertson, Gardena; Bill Jeffrey, Narbonne; Tony Patalona, San Pedro and "Corky" Northway, Torrance High school.

Hunters Get Set For Duck Season Opening Oct. 26

Duck hunters took down the old double-barrel for an oiling this week as the State Fish and Game department announced opening of the season Oct. 26. Close of duck hunting will be Dec. 9.

Bag limit (for the lucky few who have to worry about such things) is seven, one of which may be a wood (not wooden) duck.

Although the main migratory flight is up the Pacific Coast, enough stragglers generally fly inland to make Elizabeth Lake and Lake Hughes a stopover, according to the U. S. Forestry Service.

Dove shooting season comes to a close Oct. 30, while the month-long quail hunting period will open Nov. 15.

Television GHQ Now Being Built Atop Mt. Wilson

Start of construction of a new building atop Mt. Wilson, to provide communication service of all types for television and frequency modulation broadcasting stations there, was announced last week by the Southern California Telephone Company.

Located on Forest Service land near the U. S. Weather Bureau airway station, the building is expected to be completed before next January. Meanwhile, the Southern California Telephone Company will start laying underground aerial cable to provide communication service to the entire Mount Wilson area.

Work on this cable to Mount Wilson will begin this month and should be completed before the first of the year. The cable will provide high-quality cir-cuts for connecting the television and frequency modulation studios in and around Los Angeles with their broadcasting equipment on Mount Wilson. Frequency modulation programs will be carried to the mountain on wire facilities and broadcast back to radio audiences. Regular telephone circuits to the mountain top also will be carried in the new cable.

One of the system's transmitters for highway mobile radio-telephone service may be located in the Mount Wilson building if approval for construction is granted by the Federal Communications Commission. Similar equipment for highway service is planned for the top of Mount Woodson near San Diego.

Plans of the telephone companies call for sending the audio and visual parts of television from Hollywood to Mount Wilson by two different routes. If requested by the television station the companies will transmit pictures by microwave radio from the top of the Hollywood telephone building directly to Mount Wilson.

BLIND INTERSECTIONS

Motorists are cautioned to observe extra caution when approaching intersections blinded by buildings or an abundant growth of foliage.

Harry W. Sommer In Navy School Of Electronics

Harry W. Sommer, 19, seaman first class and son of Mrs. Dora Sommer, 2122 Gramercy ave., Torrance, is one of approximately 3,000 students undergoing training at the electronic technicians' school at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

When he completes basic and advanced training, he will get actual experience in the U. S. Fleet as an electronic technician's mate.

Electronic technician's mates and aviation electronic technician's mates install, maintain, repair and keep in operational readiness the 3,700 different types of modern but complex electronic equipment aboard ships, in planes and at shore stations.

Members of the Torrance Police Revolver club, who shot above 250 for their average during the past week, are the following:

L. Berry, two strings, 279; O. Medicus, three strings, 276; E. DeBra, two strings, 267 and W. Haslam, two strings, 250. These markers were scored with the 38 caliber.

With Captain Ernie Ashton out of the above lineup, it is interesting as well as encouraging for the non-police officer members to note that with the exception of Sgt. Willard Haslam, the high scorers are not policemen.

Membership into the local club is open to all, Sgt. Haslam, president of the group, announced.
